5 Women to Take Seats in Congress

Two Are Warm Friends of Wife of President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Five women Wednesday night were sure of seats in the House—the three feminine old timers on Capitol Hill and two warm friends of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. One of the latter was Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democrat chosen New York's representative at large, for whom Mrs. Roosevelt actively campaigned, breaking precedent to do so. Thirty-one women ran, and the result in only one campaign remained in doubt. Representative Virginia Pennekens, Democrat, trailing former Representative Purcell, Republican in a close Indiana contest. Twenty-five were defeated. With five terms each to their credit, Representative Mary T. Norton, New Jersey Democrat; Representative Florence P. Kahn, California Republican, and Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican, will be starting their second decade as lawmakers.

Representative Isabella Greenway of Arizona, bridesmaid at Mrs. Roosevelt's wedding and her intimate friend, was re-elected.

3 Hope Men Guilty of Burning Gin

Crosnoe Is Given 6 Years, Hutson 3, in Warren Trial

Crosnoe Convicted—and Hutson and Crawford Plead Guilty

FOURTH ON TRIAL

Hearing for Wilson Begun—Plea of Guilty From Negro Wheaton

Three Hope men were subject to penitentiary sentences Thursday, and a fourth man, Ben F. Wilson of Minden, La., was on trial in Bradley county circuit court charged with arson in connection with burning a cotton gin at Banks, Ark., last spring.

A jury late Wednesday afternoon convicted Charles Crosnoe and fixed his sentence at six years.

Jesse Hutson pleaded guilty Thursday morning and drew a three-year sentence.

Following Hutson, Thomas Crawford entered a plea of guilty. His sentence had not been fixed at noon Thursday, telephone messages to The Star from Warren officials said.

A fifth man, Chris Wheaton, Hope negro, pleaded guilty to his part two months ago and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

A jury had been completed at noon, and testimony in the trial of Wilson was expected to start at 1 o'clock.

The cotton gin was owned by J. A. Lee. It burned the night of April 10, last. The first clue in the fire was discovered by Sheriff Beard of Bradley county.

He picked up a kerosene-saturated box near the burned gin which bore the signature of 555 Service station, Little Rock. State Fire Marshal U. A. Gentry traced the box from Little Rock to a service station in Hope.

Local officers located the handler of the box here, leading to the identification of the men who bought a can of kerosene at the station the night of the gin fire.

Salary Act Wins for 15 Counties

With 2 in 1932, Now in Effect in 17 of 75 Counties

LITTLE ROCK—Nearly complete unofficial returns Wednesday night showed that initiated salary acts were adopted in the following counties:

Arkansas, Ashley, Benton, Crawford, Dallas, Drew, Jackson, Miller, Perry, Randolph, Searey, Sevier, Sebastian, White and Woodruff.

Salary acts were trailing in the following counties: Clark, Horstead, Howard, Independence, Lawrence, Lincoln and Polk.

Cleburne, Phillips and Union previously voted salary acts, the people of the latter two Tuesday amending the original acts to supplementing initiated acts.

Jackson county voted on two acts, adopting No. 1 which was initiated by the Quorum Court and curtailed salaries sharply. A more moderate act met overwhelming defeat.

American Education Week Will Help High School With Public Schools Need Co-Operation of All Citizens in Formulating the Most Effective Educational Program

One of those old, old Asiatic proverbs says something to the effect that intermittent showers will ruin spring hats, but the steady dripping of a leaking faucet will wear away a stone. This moral can be applied universally. Take the matter of the 300th anniversary of the American high schools.

You may not be surprised to learn that the progress of the great American High School was founded in Boston on the 13th of 2nd month, 1635, thus establishing free public education for the first time in the modern world. But, unless you have nerves of steel, you really ought to feel your heart leap at the thought that for three centuries men have fought, bled, and died for the principle of universal democratic public education, and all that that implies.

Thomas Jefferson, William Livingston, George Boutwell, and Horace Mann are but a few of those who gave their talents magnificently to this cause. The modern high school did not grow like Topsy, no more than its graduates ascend to Heaven on pulleys like Little Eva. Since the first argument in the Boston town meeting over whether the schools should be supported by taxes or tuition, the development of the modern high school

Sinclair Loses But His Aides Advance

EPIC Faction Gains 17 Seats in California State Senate

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—(AP)—The die was cast Thursday for a contest between Union Sinclair's EPIC faction and old-line Democrats for control of the party in California.

Former Socialist, defeated by Republican Governor Frank P. Merriam in his bid for the governorship as the Democratic nominee, nevertheless gained a foothold in other state offices.

The EPIC backers captured at least 17 seats in the state senate and one of four places on the State Board of Equalization.

Ritchie Is Beaten for a Fifth Term

Republican Noses Him Out in Maryland on Complete Tabulation

BALTIMORE, Md.—(AP)—Albert C. Ritchie has been defeated in his attempt to gain a fifth term as governor of Maryland.

The state's new executive will be Harry W. Nice, Baltimore attorney and Republican.

Nice was defeated by Ritchie in 1918. Nice's election was not determined until the vote was completely tabulated Thursday. The Democrats carried a majority of the other offices.

Bobcats to Be at Practically Peak Condition for Prescott

Hope "Set" for Football Classic on Local Field at 8 o'clock Friday Night

Hoping for a victory, Coach Foy Hammons' Bobcat football players dressed off their offense Thursday on plays especially designed for use against Prescott High School in the annual gridiron classic here at 8 Friday night.

Considerable time has been devoted to passing with Guy Payne, elusive halfback, on the throwing end. The team went through scrimmages early in the week, tapering off Thursday with a pep rally practice session.

The Bobcats will not be at their full strength, due to injuries, but most of the regulars are expected to see action. The annual combat, with its color and rivalry, is expected to draw a record crowd.

Tickets will go on sale in the downtown section Friday morning. They may be purchased at the regular price, 50 cents. Gate receipts will be divided between the Hope and Prescott athletic associations on a 50-50 basis, which has been customary for years.

Queen Is Chosen

Miss Floy Mae Weisner, pretty, blond and 18, has been chosen as queen to reign over festivities. The student body chose as her maids, Misses Jane Oton, Pauline H. Jones, Audie Forterfield and Allene Allen.

A pep meeting and bon-fire will be staged Thursday night on the grounds of the old high school building, starting at 7 o'clock. A parade through the downtown section will follow.

Hempstead Is No. 1 Against Grab Act

This County's Majority of 11-to-1 Greatest in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Large majorities for or against the proposed amendments and referred acts apparently had settled their fate Thursday, despite the absence of a vote count in approximately 40 per cent of the polling places.

With figures remaining virtually unchanged since Wednesday night, Governor Futrell's two amendments, Nos. 19 and 20, were out in front by sweeping majorities, and majorities likewise were established against the third proposed amendment, No. 21, and the two referred acts.

Governor Futrell was re-elected by a vote of almost 10 to 1 over G. C. Ledbetter, Hamburg, Republican; and J. R. Butler, Pangburn, Socialist.

The only race remaining in doubt was that of the judge of the 14th judicial circuit, and Jack Holt, Harrison Democrat, apparently had a safe lead over O. P. Rogers.

Congressman Fuller won re-election in the Third district over the Rev. Pat Murphy, Republican of Rogers.

Deisch Would Tax Press for Revenge

Proposes Special School Tax Against Metropolitan Papers

LITTLE ROCK—Former Senator Senator Peter A. Deisch of Helena, Mont., gave the best that was in him in a magnificent effort to save the people of Arkansas from the consequences of their own blindness, is planning to continue his career of disinterested statesmanship, he revealed Wednesday.

Mr. Deisch did his unselfish best to persuade the voters that it would be to their best interests to adopt the Grab Amendment and secure the services of the present state and county officials for four years instead of two.

The ungrateful people refused stubbornly to be saved. They declined a second helping from the same dish, preferring to wait and look around the table again two years hence.

But is Mr. Deisch downhearted? Indeed not.

Mr. Deisch has turned his attention and his talents to the schools, which admittedly need help. He proposes to raise additional revenue for them from "untapped sources."

The sources he plans to tap are the newspapers.

Mr. Deisch has developed a complex about newspapers in the last few weeks. There is ground for suspicion that he doesn't like them. The newspapers didn't see eye to eye with him on the Grab Amendment, and he holds the melancholy conviction that the Gazette was largely responsible for the refusal of the people to be saved by the Grabbers.

What he proposes is this: "It is suggested by a number of the thoughtful members of the present General Assembly that a privilege tax of 6 per cent be levied and collected from the gross income of all newspapers published in Arkansas and having a daily circulation in excess of 20,000.

Farm Credit Board Orders Hike From 8.7 to 9.2 Mills

Declared Obligatory to Clean Up State's General Indebtedness

AUTHORIZED IN 1931

Board Claims Adoption Under Act 10 That Year—in Effect Jan. 10

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A half-mill increase in the state tax rate was certified Thursday by State Auditor J. Oscar Humphrey to the 75 county clerks of Arkansas, to be extended on taxes payable beginning next January 10.

The new state rate on the 450-million-dollar assessed valuation of Arkansas will be 9.2 mills, as against the heretofore almost stationary rate of 8.7 mills.

The increase was made necessary, Humphrey was told by the State Agricultural Credit Board, because of the need for about $58,000 next year and in succeeding years to retire outstanding state general obligations issued in 1931 to foster the formation of the Agricultural Credit Board corporations.

Assistant Attorney General Smith informed Humphrey that the tax was levied by Act No. 10 of 1931 and that he had no discretion in the matter of certifying it.

Referendum Wouldn't Apply

Arrival of Thursday's Associated Press dispatch in Hope found local attorneys unable to recall the 1931 law which allegedly gave the State Agricultural Credit Board authority to increase the state general tax by half a mill.

In any event, the law would not be subject to the referendum provision for under Governor Futrell's amendment No. 19, adopted at the polls last Tuesday.

This amendment applies to future legislation only, and will not be actually in effect until its adoption is certified by the state in the next week or so.

Kilgore Men Held in Prescott Theft

Two Arrested at El Dorado for Holdup of Ebb's Cafe Oct. 8

James Walls and Clem Hudspeth, who gave their homes as Kilgore, Texas, were to face robbery charges at Prescott Thursday for the holdup of Ebb's cafe of that city, which occurred the night of October 8.

Arrested at El Dorado, the pair were returned to Prescott Wednesday by Sheriff Arlice Pittman of Nevada County. Deputy Sheriff Allen Shipps of Hempstead.

A "tip" furnished to El Dorado officers from Hope, resulted in their arrest, it was said.

When taken in custody, the two men had in their possession a stolen automobile and a .38 calibre pistol, officers said.

After their return to Prescott, the pair was identified by a Mr. Hesterly, manager of Ebb's cafe, as the two men who entered the cafe with drawn revolvers and obtained $22.00.

Following the robbery the two bandits escaped in a Ford V-8 in the direction of Hope. Officers here took up the chase which led to Hope Basket factory. There the bandits disappeared.

Walls and Hudspeth, officers said, confessed the holdup.

Tuberculosis Fought By Collapsing Lung

Nature, fortunately has provided us with much more lung tissue than we need for breathing purposes, and as a result a new method has been developed for the cure of such respiratory conditions as tuberculosis.

The process involves the entire collapse of the lung in the chest cavity. Its technical term is "artificial pneumothorax."

Pneumothorax was coined in 1893 to describe the presence of air in the chest cavity outside the lung. Through use of the X-ray, many such conditions have been discovered.

Around 1892 a Scotch doctor found that he could cause a lung to collapse by putting air into the chest cavity outside the lung. It was not, however, until 1892 that a physician actually introduced air into the chest cavity to rest a diseased lung.

An Italian doctor named Forlanini first tried this procedure. Then the eminent surgeon, John B. Murphy, in Chicago, tried the method in 1898 and published his results. Various gases were used for the purpose, but it was finally found that filtered air was the most practical and satisfactory.

While the method is relatively simple, naturally some dangers are associated with it. One of these dangers is that the needle used to inject the air may get into the blood vessel and produce what is known as a gas embolus.

Such an embolus, getting into one of the blood vessels, might reach the brain or the heart and produce a most serious condition. However, it is possible to guard against this complication. In fact, such an accident has been found to occur only five times in 20,000 cases.

The chief value of this method is, of course, to rest a lung that is diseased by collapsing over a certain period of time. Because we have much more lung tissue than we need, the collapsing of a lung or a part of a lung is not likely to have a serious result on our breathing.

There are, however, certain types of cases in which it would be more serious than in others—namely, cases of severe heart disease and of asthma.

It has long been known that strict rest in bed is one of the most important forms of treatment for those who have tuberculosis. The collapsing of the lung is, superior to rest in bed, because it rests the lung completely.

When you realize that the average person breathes about 25,000 times a day, you can rest the afflicted lung actually gets when it stops breathing.

The good results that have been secured in this type of treatment depend largely on the intelligence with which the method is used.

Today the method is tried not only in adults, but in children and in very aged people. It serves to a considerable extent to stop the spread of tuberculosis, because it closes up cavities and prevents the organisms from getting into the sputum.

A BOOK A DAY

How the "29 Crash Knocked Out Shams"—"The Golden Vanity" Looks at Boom Era's Wreckage

"The Golden Vanity," by Isabel Patterson, is another of those novels which sketch the decline and fall of the great American boom.

The stock market crash of 1929 carried a great many things with it into the pit; a whole cross of pretenses, delusions, humbugs, and stupidities, whose departure left us in a confusion from which we are still striving to emerge.

Mrs. Patterson, who catches a sardonic eye at all the vanished glories, studies the whole affair through the experiences of three girls, cousins, who arrive in New York shortly after the war to make careers for themselves.

One of them is the wife of an underpaid university instructor, who gets the stock market fever and builds up a paper fortune, only to plunge into dire poverty when things go wrong. Another is a cold little gold-digger who marries a Vincent Astor-ish sort of chap and discovers that being married to a pile of gold isn't the soft snap she had figured.

The third is an actress, who sort of flits about the outskirts of everything, producing those tricky wisecracks for which Mrs. Patterson is famous.

Through these three pairs of eyes, you glimpse a world which went utterly gaga and which, the author seems to feel, has not yet shaken off its hang-over.

Published by Morrow, the book is priced at $2.50.

Even College Graduates Seem Ignorant of Simple Facts of Geography

These are a few of the things my startled ears have heard dropped from the lips of college graduates in the last few months. When I say "college" this includes naturally high school and preparatory schools because they are the second step in college preparation. And grade schools because they are the first.

A young woman just returning home from New York City: "I never can remember just where Brooklyn is. It is in New York, New Jersey or Connecticut?"

Natural enough in a way, perhaps, because these three states jam pretty close to Manhattan, but it doesn't click with my idea of "larnin'."

Last summer a young married woman on a train going west said something about the "coast" of Wyoming. "Coast?" I inquired with interest. "I never used to have one. Not when I was there. Maybe it moved."

"Oh, isn't Wyoming on the sea—the Pacific?" she asked.

How Did She Skip Geography?

Well, she lived in the east and we were then in Texas or Arizona, and she had never been west of the Mississippi before. But I wondered if she had had whooping cough or measles when she was in the sixth grade.

A young fellow was saying something about the Panama Canal and kept talking about Mexico.

"But Mexico has nothing to do with it."

"Well, not exactly, but it's so close."

"Just how close do you suppose?"

"Well, isn't it right next?"

"All the countries of Central America lie between Mexico and the Canal Zone." I reminded the poor kid.

"Close your eyes and think of the map of the western hemisphere—Canada, United States, Mexico, Central America and South America."

Panama itself is one of the Central American States. The U. S. A. just bought a ten-mile strip across it.

"Sure," he laughed. "I always get Mexico and Central America twisted."

"You wouldn't if you knew just of 'You wouldn't if you knew just how terribly big each of them is."

Why So Much Ignorance?

I can understand a student forgetting whether the Windward Islands are in the Atlantic or Pacific groups, but I cannot understand this vague knowledge of our own country and continent.

These are merely a few of the blind spots that have come to my attention. And the majority are smart enough young folk who can patter beautifully on international politics and the style of envy James.

Perhaps our old-fashioned methods of getting an education were too factual, but where will children get facts if not in school? They seldom trouble to look them up later.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Happy Attitude Is Beauty Need.

Happiness and contentment probably are the two greatest attributes of real beauty. The girl who has learned to make the best of everything and who doesn't spend time worrying about situations she can't remedy, generally is much better looking than a chronic complainer or one with a disagreeable disposition.

A dissatisfied, ill-at-ease-with-the-world woman never can be truly lovely. Her forced smile spoils the conlour of her pretty mouth. Her sour girl with sunny charm comes a good deal closer to beauty.

'The Man Behind the Man Behind the Gun'

For instance, I know a girl who really has difficult-to-manage hair, eyes of a rather nondescript shade and a just average figure. Yet she is considered by everyone to be really beautiful. Why? Because her facial expressions are pleasant and kindly. Her eyes reflect an inner happiness—her smile is interesting and friendly.

Of course, no one can expect a happy smile to make up for neglected outlook on life ruins her eyes, even her complexion. Indeed, a quite plain skin and hair that gets practically no attention. Every girl must practice good grooming habits and do all that's possible to improve her personal appearance.

In addition, she should realize that what she really is inside is what counts most in beauty, particularly after she's thirty. The younger usually can get by on mere prettiness. The mature woman must depend on something more substantial. Beauty, providing it shines from within, certainly is that.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE

©1934 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When CHARLES MOORE, reporter for The Blade, in found dead DANN BLEEKER, publisher, editor SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, following the arrest of an important claimant to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS.

The day following Morden's death Cathay died of poisoning. GRIFF learned Morden had visited the apartment of ALICE LORTON, who had reported the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER ORDWAY. GRIFF questions ALICE and instructs detectives to shadow her.

GRIFF and Bleeker go to the apartment occupied by KENNY BOONE, friend of Alice's. Alice is there. GRIFF accuses the pair of killing Morden and calls police headquarters. He and Bleeker then go to an address where MRS. CATHAY and RACINE, a detective due to be employed, are conferring with a woman believed to be MRS. BLANCHÉ MALONE.

NOW GO ON WITH OUR STORY

GRIFF told the cab driver to wait and he and Bleeker approached the house, a house which had at one time been a pretentious private residence but was now given over to furnished rooms.

"Shall we," Bleeker asked as they entered the door, "get the landlady and inquire for Blanche Stanway?"

"I doubt," GRIFF told him, "if it's necessary."

He led the way up one flight of stairs, paused to listen in the hallway.

The sound of swift, excited voices came from a room toward the rear. GRIFF nodded toward that room. "I presume," she said, "you want to be to beg and cringe. I won't do it."

"How," asked Racine, "did you find out about this?"

GRIFF smiled at him.

"How did you find out about it?" he countered.

MRS. CATHAY whirled to the hard-faced woman who sat in the chair, regarding them with glittering appraisal.

"If you talk," she said, "you're not going to do yourself any good. GRIFF swung to her instantly.

"If you don't talk," he said, "you're going to put yourself in a very questionable position."

The woman laughed. Her laugh was harsh, rasping and discordant.

"My, my," she said, "how important I seem to be getting all of a sudden! Well, I'm not going to talk—not because she told me not to—and the woman spat out the feminine pronoun with a bitter, scornful emphasis, "but because I'm going to get a lawyer to do my talking for me."

"Who," asked GRIFF, "is your lawyer?"

"I don't know," she said. "I'm going to get one."

"The police," said GRIFF, "may want to know something about this."

"The police," she retorted calmly, "can keep on waiting."

Feast of Belshazzar Is Recalled by Evangelist Beasley in Sermon

"Thou art weighed in the balance, and art found wanting." Dan. 5:27 is the text from which the Rev. Mrs. Beasley preached at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle Wednesday night.

"God judges both individuals and nations. Babylon as a nation had been made to know that there was a true God in heaven during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, but Belshazzar apparently thought he could get along without God, and went so far as to drink wine out of the Sacred goblets they had captured out of the temple of Jerusalem. Then appeared the handwriting on the wall with the pronouncement of judgment used as the text.

"Just as surely as we sow to the flesh, we shall of the flesh reap corruption. It is a sad thing for people to feel self-sufficient. Many think it is a light thing to transgress God's laws. It seems that there never has been an hour when the people have been so reckless. People are ignoring God today, just leaving God out of their lives. No nation and no individual can live independently of God. If they attempt to they will go on the rocks sooner or later.

"I want God on my side," said Mrs. Beasley. "One of these days we are going to have to step into God's Balance. Some men would have courage to face a machine gun nest who have not the courage to come down to an old fashion altar and seek God, because of public opinion.

"God says 'Because I have called, and ye have refused; I have stretched out my hand and no man regarded;—I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh. Numbers have found God as their Saviour during this and previous services. A hearty invitation is extended to all to hear Mrs. Beasley.

Autumn

Oh maples, light your signal fires
For all the world to see,
The armies of Autumn ride
All panopied in pomp and pride
With banners tossing free.
The royal armies—see them come
With shrilling life and throbbing drum.

The barley sheaves have fallen low,
The corn has sheathed the lance.
The hosts of summer flout no more
The colors once they proudly bore—
Autumn, Advance, Advance!
Not threatening fist, but open hand, exact age of the party in question, for these records will be on file in state offices the country over. Today greater and greater attention is being paid to the necessity of accurate and adequate birth registration. Arkansas is doing its bit in the movement by conducting the state's first "Register Your Baby" campaign.
Await your conquest of the land.

This project which has been conducted for the past five weeks under the direction of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health, and the Federal bureau of the Census and the Arkansas Emergency Relief Administration is one of the many surveys throughout the country which is directed toward the improvement of the birth registration methods in the various states. Parents of children under one year of age are urged to support the campaign by returning the cards which they have received from Washington, if they have not already done so. Thus will be proper registration of their children be assured.

American Education

learning." Their fault sometimes is learning." Their fault sometimes is not the nature of their criticism but their unwillingness to help the schools develop a program more in keeping with the community needs. Rather than improve their schools they say "Spinach" and reject the whole institution. But the high school needs the co-operation of these citizens. Or, where it is impossible to win them over, it is necessary to discredit their arguments thoroughly in the eyes of the community. Without public support, it is impossible for high school students to receive the right sort of training.

This condition has prompted many progressive high schools to make a regular activity of interpreting the school to the public. Monograph Sixteen of the National Survey of Education, written by Belmont Farley for the United States Office of Education, tells how such a program works in Denver, Cleveland, Kansas City, and Philadelphia, where they have had the effect of making the school more interesting to the student, more purposeful to the teacher, and more useful to the community.

pretative programs during American Education Week, November 5th to 11th. The exhibits, ceremonies, and performances of this week are to express the goals and traditions of America and the role that democratic education plays in our history.

The annual American Education Week performs a valued service in helping schools to win public understanding and support. Now the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association offers high schools the opportunity to extend their interpretation throughout 1934-35 in the celebration of the 500 years of American high schools.

Celebration plans have been made which include pageants, debates, exhibits, programs over the radio, moving pictures, an extensive co-operation with service clubs, churches, and fraternal organizations. The plans even include a memorial postage stamp.

In short, the celebration year offers students, not to mention their parents and teachers, a rare opportunity to build a more intimate relationship between the high school and the community. The program of interpreting the schools to the public is not one to be installed for a single week or for a single year, although special occasions like the American Education Week and the High School Tercentenary are valuable aids. The job of education for a civilized society must go on perennially. Stout-hearted American educators have kept the spark burning, thus far, for three centuries. The concerted efforts of high schools throughout the county will yet keep faith in universal, democratic, public education alive a while.

Fox Still Faces Long Fight on Patents

NEW YORK—King of all he surveys—and yet he can't issue a single command. That is the position in which William Fox, former president of the studio which still bears his name, now finds himself. His sound recording patents upheld by the supreme court of the United States a few weeks ago, Fox overnight became the most important individual in the motion picture industry.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 2 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS...a doctor's prescription...which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS...the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

But—and here is where the catch comes—it will require other legal battles to collect those back royalties. And they will take from two to four years' time.

Out for Revenge
Fox already has filed suits against all the major movie companies, except Fox Film Corporation. And the reason he has overlooked that company, according to those in the know along Broadway, is that he is saving it until the last so that he may avenge his injured feelings, sustained about three years ago when he was forced out of the company.

At that time he received a cash settlement of $17,000,000 for his holdings. But still he wasn't satisfied. He wanted to remain in the thick of activity. William Fox is said by those who know him to be a very cunning sort of individual. Like an elephant, he never forgets, if he feels that someone has done him wrong.

He thought that when they took away from him the company which he founded and headed for many years. And now he is unquestionably in position to get revenge.

More Litigation Due
According to information gathered here, he handed his lawyers $2,000,000 at the time he was forced out of the Fox organization and told them to start the fight which reached its climax in the recent supreme court decision.

However, the supreme court simply upheld the validity of the patents. It made no mention of ownership. And now there seems to be some doubt as to the ownership of those patents.

Fox Film has sued Fox, claiming that he secured the patents while he was president of that corporation and therefore should have relinquished them with his other holdings.

In all probability it will require nearly two years, what with appeals to higher courts and all that, to fight this legal battle. Film executives here are generally of the opinion that Fox will emerge the winner.

But the suit will serve to delay proceedings for the collection of back royalties, since little can be accomplished in this direction until ownership of the patents is definitely established.

It Will Be a Long Battle
In case the former movie magnate should go ahead with his other suits, pending a decision of the suit filed against him by Fox Film, there is no doubt that the studio will seek an injunction prohibiting him from receiving any money until a final decision has been rendered on the point of ownership.

Western Electric Corporation and Electrical Research Products, Inc. (better known in movie circles as ERPI), both have guaranteed their respective processes to the various studios using them. Consequently, the infringement on Fox's patents really would be by those companies rather than by the studios.

So the film companies would be certain to sue Western Electric and ERPI for any judgments awarded against them.

Not So Essential
Neither the flywheel nor the double printing process on which he holds the patents is necessary to sound recording. They merely simplify it. So the studios can get along without them.

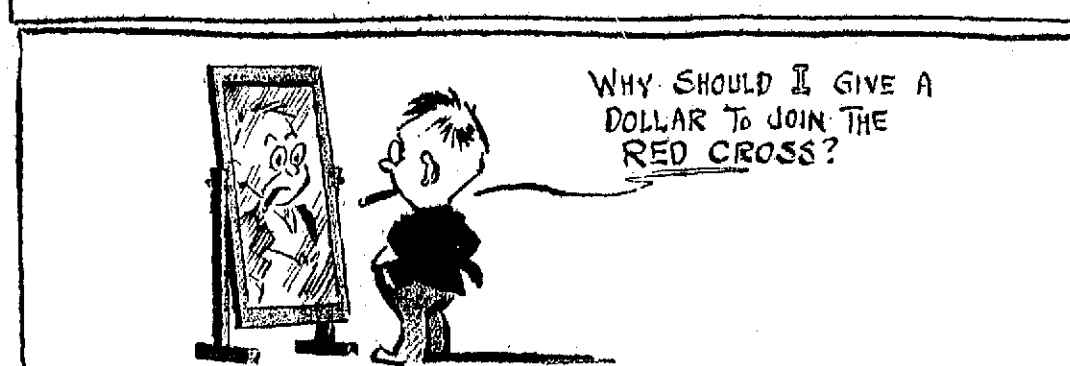

All the movie moguls here are worried about what's going to happen, however. Not one will discuss the Fox situation in any manner without prefacing all remarks with, "This is strictly off the record."

And Fox himself can't even be found to get his views of the situation. So far the location of his hide-out has baffled every newspaper reporter in New York.

Apparently he feels that the time isn't ripe to talk. So he doesn't even want to be seen.

ner couldn't even warm her up. Only Tick On got close to her. Yet at 3 there wasn't a cold she could beat. The colts simply were slow in developing in Top Flight's 2-year-old year, and she was a filly of remarkable speed and developed early.

No Fading Nellie Flag
But Owner Wright undoubtedly will nominate Nellie Flag for the Kentucky Derby, and her smashing victory in the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes at Churchill Downs the other afternoon assures him of having one of the winter book favorites.

That's where Derby choices and winners are unveiled—Reigh Count, Clyde Van Dusen, Twenty Grand, and Mata Hari.

And Nellie Flag negotiated the mile of the Kentucky Jockey Club fixture in 1:37 3-5, nearly two seconds less than Mata Hari required to bag the number a year ago.

It was the fastest time recorded in the race since Twenty Grand took it from Equipoise by the barest fraction of a nose to hang up a new 2-year-old mark for the mile, 1:36, in one of the greatest races ever run.

Previously, Nellie Flag captured the Matron Stakes in the mud, and hung up a 1:38 for future generations to shoot at in the Selma Stakes.

Nellie Flag's Dam Did It
Nellie Flag has only to follow in the illustrious footsteps of her dam to make good in 1935. Nellie Morse topped Transmute and Mad Play to bag the Preakness of 1924 for Bud Fisher.

Other latter-day exceptions to the rule that a filly is finished at 2 are Princess Doreen, Edith Cavell, and Tred Avon. Edith Cavell, which started at 2 1/2 miles, nosed out the stayer, Crusader, over that route in 1927. Tred Avon, which whipped Equipoise and Gallant Sir in accounting for the Washington Handicap of 1931, is reported being prepared for racing's comeback in California this winter.

But Nellie Morse, Princess Doreen, Edith Cavell, Tred Avon, and Regret before them were—and are—rare exceptions. Regret hoofed it home first in the Kentucky Derby of 1915 to be the only filly ever to win that blue ribbon event.

Breeders have been waiting since the turn of the century for another Bel-dame, Hamburg Belle, or Artful. Or another Miss Woodford, which reigned

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just dumps in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Should Obtain 4c for Certificates

Farmers Urged Not to Accept Less for Cotton Exemptions

The U. S. collector of internal revenue, Homer M. Adkins, Little Rock, says:

Unfortunately farmers are disposing of their surplus exemption certificates at ridiculous low prices when they should get a minimum of four cents per pound of lint cotton.

There is a great demand for surplus exemption certificates in the National Pool for the specified purpose of helping the farmers dispose of their surplus exemption certificates at four cents per pound.

We are continually getting reports that farmers are disposing of surplus exemption certificates at one or two cents per pound in adjoining counties, which is a distinct violation of the regulations of the Agriculture Department. All surplus exemption certificates must be exchanged and a record made in the County Agent's office or disposed of through the National Pool. If for any reason these certificates are purchased at a ridiculously low price and not through proper channels they are sure to be questioned and those accepting or buying certificates should be positive they are handled strictly in accordance with regulations.

Kansas Votes Dry, 6 Others Go Wet

Florida, West Virginia, South Dakota, Repeal Prohibition

By the Associated Press
Traditionally dry, Kansas clung to prohibition in Tuesday's election which saw six other states apparently vote for repeal.

West Virginia and Florida voted wet by sizable majorities. Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming and Idaho voters appeared to be headed for a restoration of legal liquor.

Scant returns left the fate of the half hundred other proposals that were put before the voters of 25 states in doubt.

Indications of the results were: Florida—Barred ad valorem taxation of homesteads assessed at less than $5,000; granted motion picture studios 15-year exemptions from ad valorem taxation; approved four other changes in state constitution.

California—Approved relief and war veterans financing bond issues; liberalized liquor laws to allow sale in hotels, restaurants and clubs.

Arkansas—Rejected proposal to lengthen terms of state, district and county officers; adopted tax and bond issue amendments.

Illinois—Relief bond issue and constitutional convention proposals in doubt.

Memphis, Tenn.—Voted bonds to buy distributing plant for TVA power.

Louisiana—Adopted 14 Huey Long constitutional amendments which he said would transfer tax burden from "little men to big men."

Nebraska—Accepted the plan of the veteran Republican independent, Senator George W. Norris, for a one-house legislature.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Text: Galatians 5:13-26

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for November 11.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of Advance

The Sunday of this lesson is Armistice day, and it is fitting that the lesson should stress the deepest problem that confronts the Christian citizen—the problem of ridding the world of war.

The topic in its wording stresses very accurately the nature of this problem. The topic is, "Thinking Peace Instead of War."

That puts the emphasis in the right place, for we can never abolish war and strife until people everywhere are thinking peace. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

If a man's thoughts are of war and strife, or of the profit that he can make from war materials or war situations, his influence and example are going to be for war instead of peace; and when he is representative of thousands, or even millions, of citizens like himself, a nation's thinking and attitude provide a constant menace to peace.

In the trouble with the world today is that in every country there are too many citizens of this sort. And a further trouble is that the professing Christian citizen is sometimes indistinguishable in these matters from the sheerest pagan.

If we are going to establish a world of peace and destroy this demon of war, we must get at the springs of thought and action. It is not merely a statesman's problem; it is a problem for the Christian and for the Christian church.

The lesson has been wisely chosen to emphasize these things. What the lesson says concerning individuals and their relationships is true of nations.

"If ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another." Is not that precisely what has happened in history among warring nations and peoples? War has again and again proved a destructive of the victor as of the vanquished.

Equally applicable is the teaching of the lesson concerning the elemental sins and vices and the elemental virtues. Hate, sedition, moral uncleanness, drunkenness, all these have been the accompaniments of war and strife.

On the contrary, peace is associated with all the highest virtues. It has its true and abiding basis in love.

In a world where there is so much incentive to strife, peace is inevitably associated with long-suffering and patience. There can be no peace where there is not high culture and gentleness of spirit.

The task of destroying war and upbuilding peace is the task of destroying evil and upbuilding goodness. How much of the world's burden and tragedy of war would have been avoided, if the nations have taken as their precept and followed it, "Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another."

We study this lesson in a world strangely torn with conflicting passions and ambitions. The world internationally is like a seething caldron which any moment may boil over with its poisonous mass. But there is hope. More people are studying peace and thinking peace than ever before. Let us have faith and let us attack with faith the powers of darkness and violence.

Non-Strikers Are Defended by U. S.

Secretary Roper Declares Labor Also Must Be "Responsible"

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Roper Wednesday night demanded protection for the worker who chooses not to strike and urged that labor, as well as capital, be held strictly accountable to the public for its actions and policies.

"If we wish to exercise the right of not working, that is to strike, this right should be safeguarded," he said in the Washington Star's national radio forum. "But in so doing we should defend the right not to strike, that is the right to work without molestation."

"In the relationships which develop between employer and employee it is mandatory upon both employers and employees to live up to their part of the agreements determined upon. Each must be just as responsible to the public and must be held to just as strict accountability as the other."

The Commerce Department head disputed the familiar claim that Roosevelt policy is directed toward registration of business. He repeated administration assurances that emergency methods would be abandoned as normal conditions are restored and urged an immediate return of the federal relief burden to the states and localities.

You Can't Get Away With It

"But, my dear," bleated the poor little hen-pecked husband, "you've been talking for half an hour, and I haven't said a word."

"No," snapped his wife, "you haven't said anything, but you've been listening in a most aggravated manner, and I'm not going to stand for it."—Border Cities Star.

Learn From Doctors How to Treat Colds

Four Points to Remember

As colds cause more loss of time and money than any other disease, every one should learn what modern medical science teaches as to their proper treatment. Your doctor has the following objectives:

First—To relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thus aborting, or lightening the attack and relieving the symptoms caused by the congestion.

Second—To help the kidneys wash out of the blood the cold-poisons which cause the chilly sensation, feverishness, aches, and mean feeling.

Third—To expel the germ-laden mucus and toxins from the bowels.
